

Squadron – Microsoft Business Central Developer

Microsoft Business Central Developer

➡ We believe a community of experts with different skills is needed to take business to the next level in this digital era. All members, as we call ourselves, are specialists in their field. Our best-placed experts tackle their challenges together with our customers. On a project basis, with a clear scope and according to our unique approach with maximum impact. This is how we make a real impact and realize our dream of “Making the golden age of technology happen”.

➡ We are seeking an experienced Microsoft Business Central Developer to expand our E-MINDS team. E-MINDS digitizes analog processes and substantiates decisions with available data. Our digital experts strengthen the customer and its production with a strong hands-on and no-nonsense implementation by offering custom-written software as a concrete solution.

➡ As our new Integrations Developer dedicated to Microsoft Business Central ERP, you contribute by working together with our team and enhancing the integration between the client's software and Microsoft Business Central. As a profile, you are fascinated by data flows between various applications, enjoy improving operations for customers, and make their software respond to each other with smooth data exchanges.

➡ You work closely together with our driven team of experienced programmers and Implementation Consultants to maintain our connector. Translate customer needs from Business Central together with the team, to ensure the smoothest flow between both apps. Help us analyze and describe what needs to be developed, then implement it based on Jira tickets. Also, testing what you have built by writing unit & integration tests is included.

➡ We work with classic SCRUM methods: two daily stand-ups, sprint planning, refinement, sprint review & retrospective. With the entire team of experienced engineers, you work towards the sprint goal established with the Product Owner at the start of the sprint.

How do you make an impact?

You will work from our location in Skopje with a group of experts- colleagues, working closely with a remote team of experts in Belgium with whom you can spar and share knowledge anytime.

Having a bachelor's degree in computer science, information technology, or another related field is required.

The ideal candidate should have at least 4 years of work experience with Microsoft Power Automate and Business Central ERP in a technically challenging environment.

You can translate customer needs from Business Central, together with the team, and you can develop according to Microsoft Best Practices for the AppSource. Previous experience on AppSource and Microsoft Partner Processes or similar technologies will be great!

Your working tools: Confluence/Jira , Visual Studio Code, Microsoft Power Platform/Power Automate.

Your technological skills: AL programming language, Business Central SaaS, Business Central On-Premise and Azure, and DevOps knowledge are a plus.

Neat code style: You want to keep code clean and easy to understand by the rest of the team!

Experience in an environment where agile & SCRUM development is applied.

Due to the collaboration with an external team, you have an excellent spoken and written knowledge of English.

Strong analytical, problem-solving, and conceptual skills and a willingness to travel to customer offices in Belgium.

Ability to adapt and apply rapidly changing technology to in-house business needs.

Why connect with Squadron?

What do we offer

A flat structure that creates space for ownership, initiative, and the development of new ideas - freedom to carry out your project independently means short communication lines and a personal approach!

Sustainable cooperation manifests itself in a full-time long-term commitment starting with a permanent contract.

Competitive and transparent salary with an individual performance evaluation policy as part of our MASTER-SHAPE program.

Private health insurance starting from Day One as part of our company policy – PEOPLE FIRST.

Professional and personal growth with all the valuable resources for your future career development - technical and soft-skills educational training plan opportunities, educational vouchers, and bonuses compensations - included!

Flexible & hybrid working hours: from our great offices, that follow the latest technology trends and possibilities for remote- flexible working hours and locations.

Holiday virtual bank and even a holiday voucher!

Our people are encouraged to travel and visit other Squads or to work side-by-side with our clients in different locations, with expenses fully provided by us!

Provided free meals, fruits & drinks all the time in our office including a game room for relaxation and re-charging!

Team-building activities and regular fun and exciting events and community meetings!

➡Would you like to know more about this vacancy or what it is like to work for Squadron?

➡Contact us by sending an email to our People Expert: biljana.talevska@squadron.be !

<https://squadron.be/>